Welcome to ASQ Education Solutions! In an effort to provide you with timely and top-notch business solutions you can use in education, and to limit the number of promotional e-mails you receive, we have designed this monthly communication to keep you up-to-date on resources specific to your industry and profession. We hope you find this a valuable and effective tool. Thanks for reading.

CONNECTING RESULTS TO EXCELLENCE

Join us for the 14th National Quality Education Conference on November 12-14, 2006, in Dallas, Texas. What other conference allows you to mingle with authors and pioneers of quality in education and interact with experts during a Counsel With the Experts sessions? Register today!

READY FOR BOOT CAMP?

Lee Jenkins, author of Permission to Forget and Improving Student Learning has just released a new book, Boot Camp for Leaders in K-12 Education. Jenkins will speak at the 14th National Quality Education Conference in November. Conference attendees receive discounted pricing on books purchased onsite at the conference!

SPEAKING OF QUALITY...

ASQ member Sandra Cokeley talks about the journey to the Baldrige Award, what it takes to be successful, and how to use the tools presented to you to make a difference. Read her story...

DO YOU TAKE TIME TO SHARPEN THE SAW?

In the September 14 posting of the Quality in Education blog, Jay Marino, blog host, talks about how educators are often too busy "putting out fires" and "dealing with kids" to focus on continuous improvement. Can you relate? What could you do differently? Read the blog and take a few minutes to comment.

VALUE OF MEMBERSHIP

Depending on your topic of interest, an online forum, community, or network is currently dealing with challenges similar to yours and exchanging tried and true solutions through blogs, conferences, discussion boards, meetings, and more. They're looking for you to join them today.
